Air Force Reserve Legislative Priorities

1. Maintain and Sustain Strategic Depth – A Lethal, Ready and Dynamic Air Force Reserve requires AFR end-strength authorizations and sufficient career field manning, predictable budgets, and adequate funding, to enable full spectrum readiness, and surge capability and capacity

2. Reserve Personnel Appropriation (RPA) and Operation & Maintenance (O&M) Funding – is a critical MEANS to maintaining and sustaining strategic depth enabling the AFR to achieve its primary mission objective – provide combat ready forces

3. Predictable Budgets – AFR's warfighting ability to Maintain and Sustain Military Readiness, Quality of Life and Build Trust with our Reserve Citizen Airmen depends on the timely allocation of funds. Continuing Resolutions (CRs) hinder AFR readiness and cause an inability to plan and predict participation and degrade our ability to sustain progress

4. National Guard and Reserve Equipment Appropriation (NGREA) – allows for Reserve component equipment procurement and modernization resourcing to sustain a strong, relevant and lethal operational and strategic force
